SECOND DAY FOR REGISTRATION

Thursday, October 7, is the Date —Appeal to Voters

If you were not among the 3641 residents of Lima who registere on September 30 for the November election, you will have another chance this coming Thursday, October 7.

You should register then-to avoid the rush of the closing days. But if you don't register on Thurs day, your last and final shance will be on Friday and Saturday, October

First day registration last Thursday was considered fairly good by officials of the board of elections, but they request that oters who have not registered and who antic-ipate casting their ballot in the general elections in November, should not "pass up" the next opportunity to register, on Thursday of this Don't put it off until the final day.

With women voting this year in Lima, the total registration for the city is figured at about 15,500. Those who have not yet looked after the duty of registration should bear in mind that only about onefourth the voters of the city, men and women, have been liste I.

The same officials who Lerved on the first day will again be in charge on Thursday. With better weather conditions prevailing, the election board officials anticipate a better showing on Thursday. The registration places will be open from 8 a. m, to 2 p, m, and from 4 p, m, to 9

The Power of an Outspoken YES

The Gillette Safety Razor Company-largest of its kind in the world-was founded upon an idea. An idea so fundamental that it has changed the personal habits of a generation of men.

It was the idea of a personal shaving service-of putting into a man's own hands a razor that would shavehim better and quicker and more satisfactorily than he had ever shaved before.

Out in the lumber camps of Michigan, down in the cotton fields of the South, in the heart of the ig city, in the country village—the first Gillettes found their way into the hands of men who were on the lookout for better things-men who were not content with all the habits their fathers and grandfathers had passed down to them.

These men tried out the Gillette-found in it what they were looking for.

They found that it gave them the service they had always expected of a razor and had never received.

They talked about their discovery. They passed on the idea to their neighbors. They gave it their outspoken approval.

Today twenty million men of all classes, in every country on earth, are actively standing behind the Gillette—coming out publicly in favor of it—making it an issue in their personal affairs.

They are men of conviction, of ideas -who believe in the Gillette for what it does and what it has done for other men-and who refuse to shave or be shaved with any other kind of razor.

Outspoken approval on the part of users is the greatest power in business today.

The reason, perhaps, why more than a quarter of a million merchants in this country prefer to be known as "Gillette Dealers" rather than by any other title.

He decided not to accept "the bribe," gave his life to science and philosophy and became famous—so famous that at least three people in an hundred thousand have heard his name and at least one of the three, perhaps, can talk intelligently about him. He maintained his dignity and his independence and managed to avoid the physical penury, tho never a rich man. He was lucky. Life is rarely so kind James was able to be "himself" all the days of his life; most people are somebody else. When they cease to be children, life says: "Hey, you, go to work! Take your choice of jobs." And the choice is pitifully slight. Before them is the work and behind them the necessity of earning the money for a parent or a wife or some worldly ambition that isn't quite the man himself.

There is no real choice, for the individual himself doesn't really know what he can do. He doesn't even know that he ever stood at the fork of the road-not until many years too late, when he reflects that he might have been a printer if he hadn't been a lawyer. "Things" are arranged so that men must choose between Business and Something Else, but ninety-five must go into Business and only five can be in Something Else. So most human beiugs try to forget the Something Else. And this may account for a certain wistfulness in the eyes of many old men and women.

The United States, he says, is on a sound money basis; there is no prospect of a papic; the cost of living is coming down gradually; the labor situation is getting better all the time, and the occupation of the calainity howler is gone.

To talk this way after nearly eight years of Democratic administration ought to make the former schafor liable to prosecution under his party's espionage act. Everybody knows that it is rank socition for a Republican to admit that anything can be sound and prosperous when a Democratle president is in office, and a public declaration to that effect is a clear case of giving and and comfort to the enemy. -N. Would Use Two Airships in American Commerce.

WASHINGTON- Germany, thru the Zeppelin Airship Company has requested permission of the Inter-Aftied Commission on Air Control in Germany to construct two giant airships for use in internati al trade between the United states and Germany. According to advice 18ceived here in official circles the request was temporarily refused.

Negotiations with the Commis sion included an effort to obtain sanction for Germany to retain a centain proportion of her inplane reaplane and airship stations for use in international and interest a traffic. Lists of all air stations were prepared by the German air officials. There are said to be ap-proximately 600 public and private stations of which the Germans hoped to retain some 20 per cent,

German airship authorities convinced of the future international commercial possibilities of giant airships and are making every effort to save as many as possible for German use. Some members of the Inter-Allied Air Commission were said to favor establishment in Ger-irany of a few stations for the use of international aircraft. Commercial airship interests in France a d Great Britain, however, were de-scribed as anxious to delay for revcral years the recovery of the giant airship industry in Germany.

TAKING THE "HIGH" OUT OF FALL SHOE PRICES

Throughout the summer months, and during our extraordinary series of Summer Sales .- we frequently dropped a hint that you must not expect anything like a general "break" in shoe prices this fall.

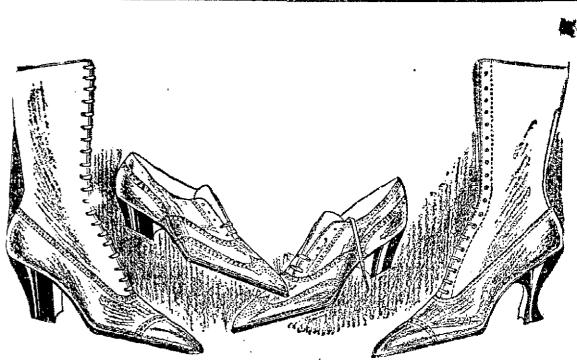

Wholesale prices generally are about as high as ever. In some cases as much as 10% lower—but no more. For many reasons this is absolutely unadvoidable—although the shoe merchant is as ager to see lower prices as you are.

But by skillful manipulation, keeping in close ouch with market conditions, and taking advanage of opportunities as they came along—Goodng's have been able to relieve the price situation

Many dealers were afraid to place Fall orders last summer, as a consequence, shoe factories were shut down, or were willing to take considerable price concessions in order to keep busy. We promptly went in and bought thousands of pairs of shoes at that time. Later on wholesale prices again stiffened, but the buying economies we made then we are ready to pass along to you

A notable case in point is the new line of women's $10 shoes described below.

THE CAPTAIN CALLS

Arlee Ecerher, a young American girl, sight-stelling in Cuiro, is the object of much admiration on the part of Capitain Keriusen, a Turkish officer, and also a young Englishman She incurs the displeasure of the Englishman by walking with the Turkish officer and a quarrel ensues, Billy b. Hill, American, is a witness to the conversation. He contrives an introduction to Arlee's chaperon, the estimable Mrs. Eversham, who in turn introduces him to her ward. Miss Beecher talks of making a trip up the Nile and Billy figures how he can do the same. As an engineer, however, his time is not his own, NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

The Capitain slowly, "She is a wid-ow and alone. Her life is—is trist?—melancholy is your English word Not much of brightness, of new things, of what you call pleasure, enters into that life, and she enjoys to meet foreign ladies who are no!—what shall I say?—seekers after curiosities, who think our ladies are strange sights behind the bars. You know that the Europeans come uninvited to our wedding receptions and make the strange questions?"

Arlee had the grace to blush, remembering her own avid desire to

Now, when the card of Captain Kerissen was handed to Miss Arlee Beecher the next afternoon, when she sauntered in from the sunny outof-doors and pause 1 at the desk for the voluminous harvest or letters the last mail had brought, and further more the information was added that the Captain was waiting, little Miss Beecher's first thought was the resentful appreciation that the Captain was overdoing it.

She hesitated, then, with her hands full of letters and parasol. she crossed the hall into the recep-tion room. She intended to let her caller see his mistake, so with her burdened hands avoiding a brandclasp, she greeted him and stood waiting, with eyes of inquiry upon ffected. "Not with them?" The young man

Jeaned forward, his eyes curiously intent upon her.
"No, I may be with some other friends. You see, it's this way—

I didn't come abroad with the Evershams in the first place. I came in the fall with a school friend and her mother to see Italy. The Ever-shams were friends of theirs and were stopping at the same hotel, and since my friends were called back very suddenly, the Eversham asked me to go on to Egypt with them. It was very nice of them, for I'm a dreadful bother," said Arlee, dimpling.
"But you speak of leaving them?"

"Oh, yes, I may do that as soon as some other friends of mine, the Maynards, reach here. They are coming here on their way to the Holy Land and I want to ake that trip with them. And then I'll prob ably go back to America with "m." The Turkish captain stared at her, his dark eyes rather inscrut-

"You American girls—your ways are absolute like h. decrees of Allahi" he langued coffly. "But tell me — what will your father and your mother say to this so rapidly changing from the one chaperon to the other?"

"I haven't any tather or mother." said the girl. "I have a big, grown-up, married brother, and he know. I wouldn't change from one party unless it was all right." She laughed amusedly at the young mon't comic go ture of bewilderment. "You think we American firls are terribly independent."
"I do, indeed," he avowed, "but,"

There is nothing in the world a woman so much fears as a surgical operation. Often they are necessary, but often not; and many have been avoided by the timely use of that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you are suffering from some dread ailment peculiar to your sex, why not profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow?

These Two Women Saved from Operations.

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—" After the birth of my last child I had such painful spells they would unfit me entirely for my housework. I suffered for months and the doctor said that my trouble was organic ulcers and I would have to have an operation. That was an awful thing to me, with a young baby and four other children, so one day I thought of Lydia E.Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how it had helped me years before and I decided to try it again. I took five bottles of Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E.Pinkham's Sanative Wash and since then I have been a well woman, able to take care of my house and family without any trouble or a day's pain. I am ready and thankful to swear by your medicine any time. I am forty-four years old and have not had a day's illness of any kind for three years."—Mrs. H. Korne, 617 Ellis Blvd, Cedar Rapids, Iowa

SPEAKERS TRIBE IS THEY'RE CHIEFS OF WORLD GETTING HIP TO NEW DIAMOND

NEW YORK .-- All that remained to complete the perfect setting for the first game of 1920 world's series between Brooktyn of the National League and Cleveland of the American League at Ebbets Field today, was the fair weather promised after an unheralded rain-storm last night.

Manager Tris Speaker and the Cleveland team arrived here early today, and went to their quarters at Ebbets Field in order to get acquainted with the layout of the diamond.

The Indians felt that they would be at some disadvantage because of their unfamiliarity with the playing field, but hoped to overcome this to some extent between their arrival and game time. The American League champions had no opportunity for actual practice on the field until they began their warming up practice for the game as the diamond has been put in first class shape.

TICKETS ARE SCARCE

There were a great many disappointed fans in Brooklyn today, due to the fact that they were unable to get tickets that would enable them to see one or more games. The unreserved seats in the field stands and bleachers were put on sale yesterday and when the box office opened there was a large crowd on hand that kept the sellers busy all day.

There were a few tickets left. when the club officials decided that those in charge of the sale had done a day's work. These were placed on sale at 8 e'clock this morning together with a few reserved seats that had not been called for by the applicants. It was apparent from the number waiting when the box office closed last night, that the un sold tickers would be insufficient to supply the demand.

Some of the fans expressed their determination to wait all night it order to he at the head of the line today, but the cold, drizzling rais shortly before midnight has a chilling effect and by 2 o'clock this morning only four "hitter-enders" were left in line for bleacher seats DODGERS STAND PAT

While Cleveland ruled a slight favorite in what little betting we announced, that fact did not shake the confidence of Manager Robinson and the Brooklyn players. They were prepared to go thru the series fighting from start to finish and felt that the apparent batting advantage possessed by Cleveland, according to unofficial records of the season's work, will be offset by the superior pitching of the Brooklyn

Manager Robinson and his players, as well as their supporters, argued that the Indians were not called upon during the Américan League season to face such a staff of uniformly good pitchers as that of the Brooklyn club.

Manager Robinson has had no worries as to his lineup and the team was prepared to take the field c it has played thru the greater part of the season. With Manager easter of Cleveland it was a different proposition since a majority of his regular players are left hand hitters and the Brooklyn lender made no secret of his intention to use a southpaw in the opening

Baseball critics were of the opinthat Speaker would stick to what has been termed the regular lineup at the start, making changes only in the event that the left-hand bitters fail to hit the offerings of the Brooklyn southpaw.

HI ELEVENS IN SCRAP TO PULL OUT WINNERS

BY BILL CUNNINGHAM The football fans of Lima are now watching South Hi with inter with Cleveland faus. He was an inest. Central has not yet succeeded timate friend of the late Ray Chapin scheduling a game for Saturday and if they play one it will be o t of town as South plays Bluffton hero Saturday.

The problem is : Can South Hi stage a come-back from the defeat handed them last Saturday by Findlay and repeat the style of play that won their first game for them? It is said by many that they can and will.
Bluffton is claimed to have hard team but. Coach Jackson South feels confident that his boys will come out on top. They are practicing hard daily and will soon have the little defects noted in the Findlay game perfected.

Central practiced on trick plays chiefly Monday with little scrimmage as the majority of the first team were stiff from their game Saturday. Several of the men were hurt but it is thought that none of them are so serious that they will not be able to play next Saturday if a game is scheduled.

Central was scheduled to play Ada this week but the date was shifted so recently that it has been impossible to find a team with an open date. Efforts will be continued the remainder of the week to play a game however.

B.&O. TEAM TO PLAY CHAMPS

The B & O Shop team will play the Cigarmakers, champions of the Industrial League, for the Cham-pion Shop team of Lima, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the Murphy

BLAME MONKEY FOR

THEFT OF DIAMOND ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Baifled by a wave of robberies and pocket pickings, the police have turned their attention to the Forest Park Zoo in the hope of solving at least one light-ingered misappropriation.

The quest began with a search of the monkey cages on the i' ory t. it an $800 diamond pin was taken from Mrs. Clifford C. Fox as "in strolled thru the Zoo on a Sun ay esternoon. Park police believe one of the monkeys attracted by one sparkler, reached thru the bars of his case and "lifted" the pin as Mrs. Fox strolled past.
